HOLDEN, Mass. — Holden Police are investigating a fatal accident on Reservoir St. Thursday night after a Worcester man was killed in the wreck.

The operator was later identified as Matthew Chasse, 40, of Worcester.

On Dec. 29, at 10:22 p.m Holden Police and Fire responded to the one car motor vehicle accident on Reservoir St. at the Worcester town line.

Worcester Fire and Police were also dispatched. There they found a vehicle on its side engulfed in flames. The fire was extinguished and the lone deceased occupant/operator was later extricated from the vehicle.

The vehicle was a 2006 Hyundai Elantra.

The accident is being investigated by officers Jonathan Bourget and Adam Porcaro of the Holden Police Department.

State Police Reconstruction also assisted at the scene. The Worcester County District Attorney's Office was also notified.

The accident remains under investigation.
