Police warn about break-ins

Holden and Rutland police are cautioning residents to take note of suspicious vehicles and persons in their neighborhood following two break-ins in those towns.

Break-ins on Brookhaven Drive in Rutland on January 29 and Harris Street in Holden on January 28 are linked by several aspects, police in both towns said.

The burglars used force to enter, breaking in doors at both residences and trashing the homes while stealing jewelry, cash and electronics. In one home, a wide-screen TV was destroyed.

The break-ins occurred during the daytime.

Police have only sketchy descriptions of a black vehicle with a backup indicator, but are processing items from the Holden break-in for fingerprints.

Residents are asked to report any suspicious activity to their local police. For Holden Police call 508-829-4444; for Rutland Police call 508-886-4033.
