Accident on Holden-Worcester line

HOLDEN – The body of a 40-year-old Worcester man was pulled from a car that had burned on Reservoir Street late Thursday night.

Matthew Chase was identified as the lone occupant of the car.

Police and fire departments from Holden and Worcester went to the scene of the fire, near the Worcester line, and found a 2006 Hyundai Elantra on its side and engulfed in flames. Firefighters put out the flames and the body was extricated.

The accident is being investigated by Holden Officers Jonathan Bourget and Adam Porcaro. The state police reconstruction team assisted at the scene. The Worcester County District Attorney's Office was also notified.
