Man faces DUI, chase charges

HOLDEN -- Holden police removed a 55-year-old Millbury man from his car Saturday night after he allegedly fled the scene of an accident and led police on a chase.

Robert S. Korsok, of 96 Sycamore St., Millbury, is charged with leaving the scene of a property damage accident, driving under the influence of liquor, refusing to stop for a police officer, driving so as to endanger, a marked lanes violation, speeding, having an open container of liquor in his car, marijuana possession and resisting arrest, said Lt. Donald Ball.

The pursuit started when Officer Janet Bourget went to the scene of a two-car accident at Main Street and Boyden Road at 5:46 p.m. As she arrived, Mr. Korsok left the scene in his 1997 Chevrolet Blazer, drove north on Route 31, west on Quinapoxet Street and north on Windy Ridge Road, Lt. Ball said. Then Mr. Korsok stopped in the middle of the road, where Officer Bourget and Officer Michael Joslyn arrested him. During the confrontation, Mr. Korsok banged his head on the pavement, and he was taken to the hospital for treatment, Lt. Ball said.

Food for Fines at Holden library

HOLDEN — Gale Free Library, 23 Highland St., is holding its annual Food for Fines program during the month of April.

Residents can clear their overdue fines by bringing in donations for the Wachusett Food Pantry that would equal what they owe. The offer does not apply to lost or damaged items.

Look for the green grocery cart on the library's first floor and go to the front desk to show your donations. Items most needed right now are: cereal, 100 percent juice, shampoo and soap, pancake mix and syrup, toilet paper and diapers.

For more information, call (508) 829-0228.

Woodcocks center stage at sanctuary

PRINCETON — Residents can view courtship flight displays of woodcock birds from 7-8 p.m. Wednesday at the Wachusett Meadow Wildlife Sanctuary, 113 Goodnow Road.

Participants should bring binoculars. The event is free; registration is not required. For more information, call (978) 464-2712.

Two arrested in Southbridge thefts

SOUTHBRIDGE — Two men allegedly pushed in a woman's bathroom window and stole her DVD player and collection of movies, telephone, and vehicle speaker box, police said.
